Yule Parade Attracts Thousands

SANTA — An annual childhood dream came true Thursday in Cameron when Santa Claus came to town. And before him one of the largest Christmas entourages in the history of the yearly Chamber of Commerce parade. The bands played, like the Yoe High School band (above right), and floats went by and units marched, but the biggest moment for hundreds of Milam youngsters was when Santa stepped from his sleigh (above left). Then children lined and jammed the Milam County courthouse square for a whisper, a touch and a candy delight from the jolly old elf. Some youngsters were entranced and could only smile. Others (lower right) sat on Santa's lap and told him first hand what Christmas lists were all about. Thousands of onlookers left little doubt that the parade ushered in the Yuletide season in Milam County. But the 32-unit parade meant only one thing to the children of Milam County. Santa had come to town.

Appeal Continues For Donations To Santa Pals

Cameron Jaycees counted about 400 individual toys and called for hundreds more this week for the second annual Santa Pals project.

Project Chairman Henry Schattle said the project urgently needed dolls, doll toys and tricycles.

"We can use almost any toy item," he continued, "and we need them now in time for repair and delivery."

The Jaycees hope to reach about 500 underprivileged youngsters in the Cameron area. Last year they delivered presents to 200 children.

A screening committee is selecting names of children submitted through the mail. Suggested names may be sent to Santa Pals, The Cameron Herald.

Workers began regular repair schedules this week to get ahead of the expected rush of discarded toy contributions, President Don Humble said this week.

Youngsters Swamp Santa Claus After Long, 32-Unit Parade

Thousands of Milam Countians Thursday jammed downtown Cameron to see a 32-unit Christmas parade highlighted by Santa Claus' first 1957 visit.

Chamber of Commerce officials estimated the throng at about 3,000 to 4,000, including hundreds of youngsters who almost mobbed Santa in the Milam County Courthouse square.

Four winners were named in the float contest, according to Louis McKee, parade chairman.

Winners were: 1. Yoe High School student council; 2. St. Anthony Girl Scouts; 3. the First Baptist Church, Cameron; and 4. Cameron Kiwanis Club.

Santa On Float

Santa's float brought up the rear of the parade column. He returned to the courthouse square after completing the parade route through the downtown area.

Officials rigged up a fenced approach route for youngsters waiting to see Santa, but even then the eager crowd bulged its way around the Christmas visitor.

Chamber President Henry Siebman termed the parade one of the best in Cameron's history.

"Participation and crowd attendance were the best in years," Siebman said.

About 15 floats vied for the $50 in prize money. Also in the parade were bands from Rosebud, Yoe High School and O. J. Thomas High School.

Patrol Units Included

Patrol units from the sheriff's department, city police and state highway patrol led the way.

The parade began at the Santa Fe Railroad Station and wound through the city on its 40-minute tour.

People lined the sidewalks and streets throughout downtown Cameron.

Chamber officials extended their appreciation for the enthusiastic participation and attendance.

Trades Day prizes were given away before and after the event. Trades Day awards will be given away starting 3:30 p.m. today.

Water District Vote To Consider Bonds

An election to complete preliminary planning on a flood-prevention project on the San Gabriel River and its tributaries will be held January 14, directors of the San Gabriel Watershed District voted Monday night.

The election, to be held at the regular voting boxes throughout the watershed, will determine whether voters want to issue $140,000 in bonds to complete the watershed's portion of the cost of the five-million-dollar project.

At an election earlier, citizens in the watershed voted better than three to one for creation of the district and issuance of $10,000 in preliminary bonds.

The second election will give voters a chance to complete the district's share of the initial cost of the project, designed to construct 50 to 60 small dams on the creeks and streams throughout the watershed which periodically overflow and cause damage.

The watershed extends from Burnet in Burnet County through Williamson County and on into Milam County to where the San Gabriel runs into Little River, an area of over 300,000 acres.

A tax rate of 6 cents per $100 valuation will finance the bonds.

If approved, plans will proceed for getting a detailed survey of the area to select definite sites for the structures.

At the same time, January 14, directors will be elected. An election for directors is required to be held each January 14.

Present directors are D. P. Irvine and A. C. Weir of Georgetown, C. V. Hutto of Bertram, H. B. Fox of Circleville and Henry Lubaj of Friendship.

Local PTA Sees Educational Film

Mrs. Wiley W. Loughmiller introduced the film "Individaul Differences" at the Cameron Parent-Teachers Association meeting Thursday evening.

"Individual Differences" is an educational film on teachers approach to children and the correct use of the schools records on each child.

During a brief business meeting Mrs. Robert Foster reported on her trip to the state Parent-Teachers Association meeting in Galveston. It was also announced that a coffee urn had been purchased for the school through PTA sale of vanilla.

Wilson Recovering From Head Injury

Bassel Wilson, owner of the Wilson Elevators, Cameron, is recovering today in a local hospital from a head injury suffered Monday at his elevators.

He was rushed to a Cameron hospital Monday after a hammer struck him on the head. It fell from the top of one of the large grain bins installed recently at his E. First St. operation.

RC Bloodmobile Due In Cameron 6 Hours Friday

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Cameron Friday at the basement of the First Presbyterian Church to receive donations for the Central Texas Blood Center.

During the Christmas season, with heavy travel and automobile accidents, the need for blood is greater than at any other time of the year, officials said.

Red Cross officials point out that donation of a pint of blood may be instrumental in saving someone's life.

About 20 volunteer workers will be helping at the blood center Friday, according to Richard Moseley, local chairman.

Dr. Clifford Swift will be in charge of the doctors, Mrs. F. E. Jackson, the canteen and clerical help, and Calvin Markham, the property committee.

Donations will be received from noon until 6 p.m. It takes less than an hour to give a pint of blood.

Moseley urged that every citizen between the ages of 21 and 60 make a special effort to give a pint of blood that could save a life.

Milam Favors Cotton Quota In 256 - 69 County Vote Count

Milam County joined other Central Texas counties in approving governmental marketing quotas, 256 to 69.

Officials at the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office said the percentage in favor of the quota system dropped due to loss of acreage this year.

Central Texas counties generally voted 80 percent in favor of quotas compared to 90 percent approval last year.

Voting in Milam County went: Clarkson-Briary Hall- 36-1; Ben Arnold School, 22-9; Maysfield, 32-1; Milano, 9-0; Rockdale, 12-0; Thorndale, 52-11; Sharp, 25-15; Buckholts, 14-23; and Cameron, 51-9.

Buckholts was the only box to vote against quotas.

Still Use Quota

Cotton will be grown under the quota system next year, providing price supports for eligible farmers at 75-90 percent of parity.

Stiff penalties, officials said, are provided for farmers overplanting allotments.

Observers point out that the reduced vote indicates a quest for a new cotton program.

In Tuesday's vote, two-thirds of votes cast in the referendum had to be in favor of quotas for their continuance. Hamilton County was the only Cen-Tex county failing to approve the vote.

Allotments Not Tested

"Acreage allotments were not in question and will remain in effect to determine eligibility for price support, according to Gib Terry, chairman of the county ASC Committee.

The referendum was held in the nine polling places Tuesday in Milam County. Only farmers engaged in production of upland cotton during 1957 were eligible to vote.

4 Negroes Held As Shoplift Suspects

Four Negroes were being held in the county jail at presstime ending charges of shoplifting, officials said.

The quartet was picked up by police officers Tuesday in downtown Cameron after an estimated $120 worth of clothing and other items were missing from a Cameron department store.

Meter Officer Marshall Terry arrested two suspects in another store after the missing merchandise was reported.

Area officials said that shoplifters have been working through Central Texas cities this week. One report noted $1,000 in merchandise stolen from one Temple concern.

WEATHER NOTES

Brisk temperatures will continue through the weekend with slight chances for precipitation by Monday. Temperatures ranged from freezing at 32 to a high of 79 Tuesday. Officials said .11 inches of rain fell Friday.

Weather data is through the courtesy of the city water department.

The state-winning Milam County 4-H Club poultry judging team won first place in the market poultry judging contest last week in Chicago at the National Invitational Poultry Judging Contest, according to J. D. Moore, County Agent.

The team received a beautiful trophy in this event and placed sixth in overall contest.

Contestants judged the following divisions: Identification of poultry breeds, egg production, market poultry and market eggs.

The total team score was 3986 out of a possible 4500 points and 178 points behind Indiana in first place, with a team score of 4162 points. Sixteen states were represented in this contest.

Team members are Jeannette Fuchs of Buckholts, Jeannette Richter, Cameron, Herman Mueck, Jr., Cameron, and Theodore Fuchs of Cameron.

The team was accompanied by J. D. Moore, Milam County Agent and Mrs. Johnnie Fuchs, Adult leader of Buckholts. The group went by car by way of Oklahoma, Missouri and Illinois. The return route was Chicago, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Texas.

The trip was sponsored by the Texas Poultry Improvement Association as a token of their interest in Milam boys and girls as well as the poultry industry.

Hunt-Fish Stuff Makes Good Gift

By Vern Sanford

Many a man has found great pleasure in buying his wife, or girl friend, a shotgun or fishing rod for Christmas. This is the year when wives and-or sweethearts may do the same thing.

Never has there been a time when more women were interested in the outdoors. More women have fished this year than ever before. In fact, many of the most important salt water tournaments on the coasts of the nation have produced women winners.

Today it is not a bit unusual to see women running fast speed boats, fishing with rod and reel, or hunting with the best of men. There were many husband and wife teams applying for permits on public hunting ranges this year.

So why not buy hubby a gun, outboard motor, boat, or rod and reel for his Christmas present? And be sure and get one you can use, too.

No doubt women shoppers will look for quality in their sports merchandise even if they are shopping for the first time. Most sporting goods dealers recognize this and try to sell women the right kind of equipment. Women have a reputation for hunting bargains. But at the same time they want quality.

Buying Fishing Tackle

Quality is the thing that counts most. Buy a rod built for action and 6 to 7 feet long. Most spinning rods come in two pieces, making it easy for them to be transported in automobiles. Also, nowadays you can get an excellent rod with spinning guides and offset handle to use the new enclosed type reels and monofilament lines.

As to the reel, you might want an open face reel or an enclosed reel. Each has its advantage and each is made by most of the reputable manufacturers. In every case, however, buy a well-known brand such as you see advertised in reputable newspapers and magazines. Don't throw your money away on cheap tackle just for the sake of price.

Then of course there is the question of lines and lures. Again light lines from 6 to 10 pound test are more acceptable. Many fishermen also prefer light lures.

About That Gun

Most women are inherently afraid of guns. Actually a gun is much less dangerous than an automobile. It just must be handled carefully and by someone who knows what he is doing.

Manufacturers build safety features into their guns. They try to give adequate caution to those who handle them. But like an automobile, if you get careless, they can be very dangerous.

On the other hand many hours of real pleasure can be had with a good gun, be it shotgun, rifle, or pistol. Each has its separate place in the scheme of things and each gives a man some pride in its ownership.

Shotgun Is Most Popular

Generally the shotgun is the most commonly used. This is especially true where women are concerned.

Women usually will be most interested in 20-gauge shotguns, for themselves. This gun also is a fine shooting piece for the man, especially one who hunts doves and quail. Double-barrel shotguns are about out of the picture, although a few still are made. The trend now is to automatics and pump guns, made at varying price ranges by many different manufacturers. Any one of them is a good gun. A lot depends on personal choice.

If you plan to do mostly duck hunting, then a 12 or 16 gauge is desirable. Talk this over with the dealer who advertises in this newspaper. He'll be able to give you good advice. Chances are he knows just what your husband wants.

If you are buying a gun for the boy of the family, you may want to get a 410 or a 22 rifle. The first gun of practically every man was a 22 and every man still has a great deal of sentiment for one. However, it is a dangerous gun when improperly used, and every boy....and parent....should know this.

In pistols or revolvers there also is a very wide choice made by good manufacturers. One of the latest is the Hi-Standard Sentinel, a 22 pistol made in colors. It is a very attractive and functional gun, either for plinking or home protection.

Yes, this is one Christmas when mamma can buy outdoors goods and feel she is getting something she too will like. Talk it over with your local sporting goods dealer, and then let your budget be your guide.

It can be a real Christmas!

Quarter Million In '56

PO Volume Calls For 'Mail Early' Move

"The mounting volume of Christmas mail makes it more important than ever for everyone to 'Mail Early For Christmas'," Postmaster John R. Hays said today.

He said further "Last year we handled a total of one-quarter million pieces of mail between December 1 and 25. So far this year, the Post Office has already received and sent thousands of Christmas cards, letters and packages, and the real heavy rush is just getting underway."

The Cameron Postmaster says that every effort is being made to deliver all mail on time and in good condition before Christmas Eve, as has been done during the past three years.

Every facility of the Post Office is being pressed into maximum service, extra trucks and personnel have been added, and with the help of the mailing public, postal employees can look forward to spending Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with their families.

Volume About Same

Hays reports that the present flow of Christmas cards is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of gifts by parcel post is somewhat behind schedule. He suggests that all gift parcels to most distant points be sent by Air Parcel Post from now on.

He also emphasized the importance of wrapping all gifts with heavy paper and securely tying with strong cord, after they have been packed in sturdy corrugated cartons.

It's especially important to write legibly, or better yet, print the recipients full name, street address, zone number, city and state, on all mailing labels, he said, making sure to include an extra label inside your gift package.

Send all Christmas cards by first class mail, and include your name and address on the Christmas card envelopes. It is not only socially correct, but helps you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

Send Unusual Mail 1st Class

If any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9 inches by 12 inches or smaller than 2¾ inches by 4 inches they can be sent only by first class mail because such cards require hand cancellation, Hays noted.

If you wish to enclose your Christmas card or letter in your gift package, merely add the appropriate letter postage to the postage for the package itself and indicate the presence of a letter or Christmas card inside the package.

In conclusion, Hays said, "We can make it a merrier Christmas for everybody if you will just follow these three simple rules: 1. Wrap your Christmas gifts securely; 2. Address your gifts and cards correctly and 3. Mail them now."

Lawns Need Attention

Beautiful lawns just don't happen — they are the product of considerable time and effort, says E. M. Trew, extension agronomist. The use of adapted grasses, good soil and drainage, proper watering, fertilization and mowing are a few of the considerations which go to make a highly desirable lawn.

Sharp Cub Scout Pack Has Meet On Achievements

Prevent Xmas Fires

The life of your family may depend upon the precautions taken for making the Christmas holidays safe. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council offers this advice: use only nonflammable decorations on the tree; use only approved lights for the tree and turn them off when retiring or leaving the house; don't overload electrical circuits with additional lights, toys or appliances and ask smokers to be doubly cautious.

Mrs. Rupert Harkrider Sr., 75, Abilene Hereford Breeder, Dies

Mrs. Rupert Harkrider, Sr., 75, of Abilene died in Cameron December 1st.

Born in Milam County November 20, 1882, she was a former Hereford breeder and a lifetime member and honorary secretary-treasurer of the West Texas Hereford Association.

She is survived by one son, Rupert Jr. of Austin, two sisters, Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp and Mrs. Ella H. Robbins, both of Cameron; one brother, William R. Rogers of Cameron; and two grandchildren.

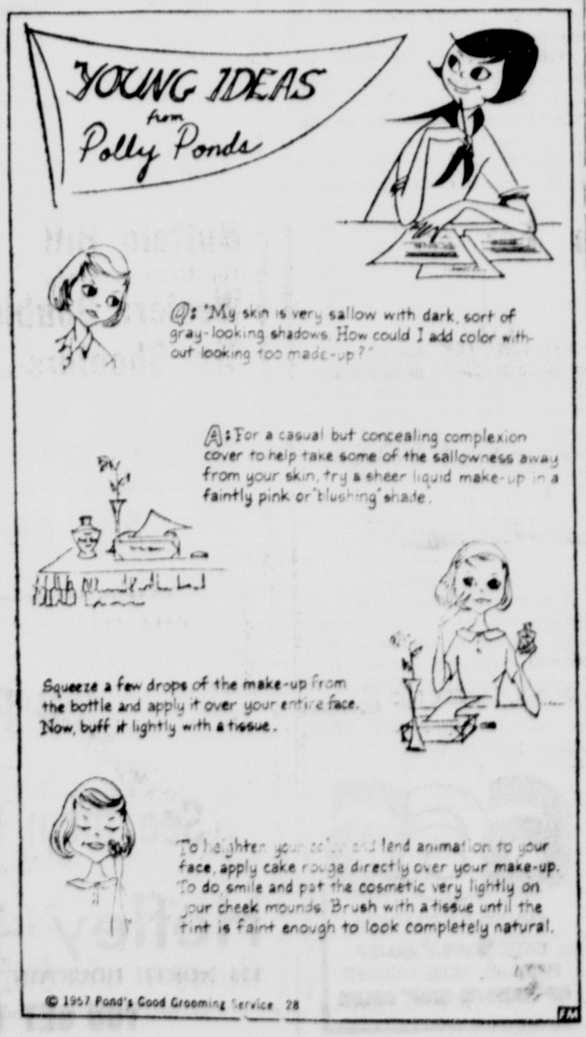
Commission Requests Hunters Cooperation With Banded Birds

AUSTIN—Quail hunters are urged again this year to send in bands from birds killed in their hunts. The request comes from the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Thousands of hatchery quail were released in the state this year. Each was banded. When hunters kill these banded birds, they should either turn the bands over to their local warden or mail them to the Game and Fish Commission with information about where they were killed and the date.

Through studies of these reports it is possible for the Department to study its quail production program, and the areas in which the birds are released. Through records of the Department, migration of the birds also can be studied.

Both Bobwhite and Coturnix quail were released by the Department during the year.



YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds
Q: "My skin is very sallow with dark, sort of gray-looking shadows. How could I add color without looking too made-up?"
A: For a casual but concealing complexion cover to help take some of the sallowness away from your skin, try a sheer liquid make-up in a faintly pink or "blushing" shade.
Squeeze a few drops of the make-up from the bottle and apply it over your entire face. Now, buff it lightly with a tissue.
To heighten your color and lend animation to your face, apply cake rouge directly over your make-up. To do, smile and pat the cosmetic very lightly on your cheek mounds. Brush with a tissue until the tint is faint enough to look completely natural.

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. L. Carson, Manager

HE'S TRAVELING LIGHT

Yes, Santa's got an easy job this year for those who are getting gift telephone service for Christmas.

All he needs to carry along is a small package containing the gift card and miniature telephone to announce the telephone gift. The actual gift may be a colored extension, an illuminated dial set, amplifying set or maybe a wall telephone, but all Santa has to worry with is the pretty little box. The telephone installer will do the work after Christmas and will install the service when the recipient tells the business office when and where he wants it.

Gift telephone service is an unusual and useful gift that will be highly appreciated. There's still plenty of time so hurry and call the business office for information about gift service.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS, MOM!"

Christmas is one of our busiest times during the year.

On a day as special as this one, it gives us a feeling of satisfaction to know that so many people reach for their telephones to wish one and all a Merry Christmas, even though they might be hundreds of miles apart.

Since switchboards are always busiest at this time of the year, there may be some delays, but there are several ways you can help us get your calls through faster.

First of all, your Long Distance calls will go through twice as fast if you call by number. And, too, it's best to place your calls as early as you can — a day or two before the holiday, if possible.

If your call is delayed, it won't be necessary for you to check back — in fact, this may even cause further delays. You can be sure the Long Distance operator will complete your calls as quickly as possible.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Speaking for all of us at the telephone company, I'd like to say we hope you have a very Merry Christmas and a happy holiday season.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE

Wet Fields Idles County Farmers, Agent Reports

Little work was done on wet Milam farms this week, according to J. D. Moore, county agent.

He said wet fields are forcing farmers to the critical stage of cotton harvesting. Plowing needs to be done, but can wait, he continued.

Small grains, on the other hand, are making good growth, he said, though fields are too wet to graze livestock, creating another problem.

Livestock conditions continue generally good due to the excellent grazing. Some fair weather to dry out oat fields is needed to improve grazing conditions, Moore said.

Most of the corn, grain sorghum, hay and feed crops are already harvested, he continued.

A small peanut acreage in Milam County also faces the same plow-under deadline problem as cotton, Moore pointed out.

Oat Fields Hit

Reports of trouble in the oat fields of Texas are coming to Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith from all sections of the State. Many of the reports indicate that oats are deteriorating as a result of the heavy rains, but Smith points out there may be other causes.

44 Cotton Counties Receive Indefinite Stalk Cut Deadline

An indefinite extension of time has been given cotton farmers in 44 East Texas counties to clean their fields of stalks, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Stalk destruction has been postponed in Zones 6 and 7 of the pink bollworm quarantine program where recent rains make picking impossible.

"We expect that the farmers will be able to get their stalks out before Dec. 31," said White. "That is the tentative date that we are using as a goal but fields are drying too slowly to set a definite deadline at this time."

"Department inspectors will make a survey of all fields in these areas about the middle of the month. By that time, we expect to be able to re-set the deadling for a definite time," Commission White said.

Zone 6 counties are: Bell, Milam, Burleson, Falls, Robertson, Brazos, Leon Burnet, Madison, Grimes, Houston, Walker, Montgomery, Trinity, San Jacinto, Polk, Angelina, Tyler, Hardin, Jasper, and Newton.

Zone 7 counties are: Hood, Johnson, Ellis, Somervall, Bosque, Hill, Navarro, Hamilton, Lampasas, Coryell, McLennan, Limestone, Freestone, Henderson, Anderson, Smith, Cherokee, Rusk, Nacogdoches, Panola, Shelby, Sabine, and San Augustine.

Fence Row Brush Control

Worthless trees and brush along fence rows rob crops of valuable moisture and soil nutrients resulting in loss of production and lower profits for the farmer.

Trees have wide spreading roots that may reach out 100 feet from the tree trunk. These sapping roots rob moisture from crops and during a dry year can reduce yield on a 50 to 100 foot wide band around the field. During a wet year the damage is not so great because there is usually enough moisture for all plants.

Winter is a good time to chemically treat fence row brush. Usually this is a slack season for labor, leaves are shed from the trees and weeds are dead, and it is possible to get closer to the tree, thus a better job can be done. Too, there are few susceptible broad-leaf plants growing at this time of the year which might be damaged by the chemical.

An ax, a handsprayer, 2, 4, 5-T chemical and diesel oil are all the equipment and materials needed to kill fence row brush.

Spray Trees

Mix one pound of the 2, 4, 5-T liquid chemical in six gallons of diesel oil and pour the chemical solution in the handsprayer. On tree less than 5 inches in diameter apply th esolution in the sprayer. On trees less than five inches in diameter apply the solution to the lower 12 inches of the tree trunk allowing it to run down the bark channels to the crown. Chemical solution around the crown prevents resprouting.

On trees more than five inches in diameter, a frill should be made near the ground line with the ax. Apply enough solution in the frill to make it bubble out of the cuts. If the tree is cut off, apply the solution to the freshly cut stump allowing it to run down to the crown.

A thorough application of the chemical solution is necessary for best results. But don't apply the solution during a high wind. The cost of killing a five inch tree is about 2 cents.

U. S., Texas Farms Drop In Numbers, Increase Values

COLLEGE STATION — U. S. farms are decreasing in number and increasing in size.

Farms in Texas are no exception to the general rule. There are now approximately 304,000 farms in Texas, compared to 506,000 in 1931, the year in which farms in this State reached their peak in numbers.

This comparison is based on revised estimates of census figures up to 1956, as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1910, Texas farms numbered 418,000, according to the USDA report which gives numbers of farms by states for each year since then.

While numbers of farms have been decreasing, investment per farm has gone up averaging $27,000 this year, according to other Department of Agriculture research.

Nationally, the total acreage of cropland harvested in 1957 is about the same as in 1940. But the size of farms has risen about 40 percent since that time and output per farm is up 74 percent. Farm output per manhour has more than doubled, and the average farm worker now produces enough food and fiber for himself and 20 others.

New Publication

Interest By Thousands

Cameron will look far back into its history to match the enthusiastic crowd of thousands that came to see the Santa parade Thursday.

It proves once again that proper Chamber organization can attract people to Cameron.

Many oldtimers were comparing the crowd to other parades held in Cameron and saying they believed it was one of the largest in memory.

The parade was a success for several reasons.

Firstly, Cameron wanted a Christmas parade. There is little doubt about that after viewing the bands, handsome floats and participating units from all over the area.

Secondly, Santa was in town. Of course Old St. Nick has a magic attraction for youngsters by the thousand. And parents wanted their children to see the genial old gentleman of whisker and red suit fame once again this year.

Finally, Yuletide enthusiasm built a desire for the parade into a rousing success.

It is interesting to note that Cameron can do itself proud whenever youngsters are involved. Look at the resounding support given the 1957 Yoemen or the turnout at the all-school carnival last week or the Christmas parade.

Whenever you have that kind of interest, you have success .

Consider the possibilities if that wide-spread interest were devoted to more lasting promotions . . . such as development of means for new jobs in Cameron . . . to keep those youngsters here when they complete thier schooilng.

What happens to Santa Claus parades of the future if the youngsters now are not here to raise their families? Who will supply the uniting force for enthusiastic support of community projects?

Santa won't!

But he has shown the way to make young and old alike enthusiastic. He brings children to town and with them their parents.

We heartily salute the Chamber, the participating parade units and yes, the thousands who attended the 1957 Christmas parade. They are the force that made Sant tick Thursday and the force that will keep him here.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

'Give Us More Scientists For Outer Space, Appliances

By J. A.

Dear editar:

In nearly everything I've read lately, regardless of the name of the newspaper that turns up out here, there has been a lot of talk about the need for more scientists in this country.

As I understand it, everybody is arguing the reason the Russians are ahead of us in the rocket field is because they've been turning out more scientists, and we've got to do something about it.

I wish to let you know that I'm in favor of it, for a couple of reasons.

First of all, of course, like everybody else, I'd like to see the United States keep ahead in guided missiles and rockets, although I'll admit I don't find any overwhelming hunger within myself to go out and conquer space. While there might not be any rocks out in space to bust a plow point, no fences to fall down, no weeds to chop, still there's something about the feel of solid ground under a man that's going to make the exploration of space a spectator sport as far as I'm concerned.

But the other reason I'd like to see the U. S. give more science instruction in schools and develop more scientists, if that'll do it, is that, if we set our mind to it, we'll eventually develop a surplus, and if there's anything this courty could use on its modern labor-saving devices it's a surplus of scientists.

If gadgets keep multiplying, and getting more automatic, practically every family will need at least one member with scientific training who does nothing but keep the things running. In fact, it seems to me the time is about here when Congress ought to establish a new department in Washington, sort of like the Department of Agriculture with trained men scattered all over the country, to be called the Department of Gadgets, whose purpose is to assist householders throughout the land in keeping the appliances going.

The head of it would be called the Secretary of Gadgets, and when something goes wrong, blame him, just like we do with the Secretary of Agriculture. As far as I'm concerned, his work is already laid out for him. I've got a radio, electric water pump, and a tractor generator right now waiting for some help from Washington.

This country has got to have more scientific training, or go back to walking plows, hand pumps, and wood stoves in the winter and palmetto fans in the summer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report

Petition Asks Giles' Parole From Prison

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Pleas for Bascom Giles' release are mounting.

Latest activity is a petition signed by 103 Austin citizens, filed wit the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. Earle Ed Burkhalter, member of the Travis County Parole Board for the past five years, submitted the request.

Burkhalter said that he is hopeful that Giles can be home for Christmas.

Giles is serving a 6-year sentence, in Huntsville, for his part in the veterans land scandals. He was eligible for parole last April However the Pardons Board contended that his release "would not meet with community acceptance." Burkhalter's petition is the result of that statement.

Burkhaler said that he knew Giles only casually and had not consulted any of Giles' friends or relatives when he started the petition. He did say, however, that he felt that Giles' wife and family were being punished beyond the intent of the law.

"Mr. Giles has taken his medicine without pursuing the generally accepted course of taking advantage of all the technicalities of the law," Burkhalter commented. "He made restitution in civil procedures of all the money that was asked of him by the state's Attorney General."

Three of the nine members of the corrections board, tre policy making group for the prison system, recently said that Giles should be paroled. They praised his spotless prison record and termed him an "excellent risk" to society. One member, Lewis Nordyke, of Amarillo, described Giles as a "political prisoner."

Peace And Quiet Here

But Christmas in the Capitol, as elsewhere, may be a bit blighted this year by thoughts of upcoming bills.

Before adjourning, the lawmakers passed a $325,000 appreprlation to pay second session expenses. Four defferent special funds had to be tapped to scrape it up.

This, added to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's forecast of a $20,000,000 deficit by 1959, heightened lawmakers' gloom and dissatisfaction at session's end. Some predicted they would have to come back in January to pass a tax bill.

Gov. Price Daniel said "no" to another session. Even if the comptroller's forecast proves correct, said Daniel, the 1959 session can take care of it. But the governor said he had real hopes that a rise in oil production would bring in more revenue and avoid the deficit.

Accomplishments Questioned

Seven major bills were pássed in the two special sessions called by Governor Daniel this fall.

First session turned out laws on water planning, lobbyist control, crime study and practice before state agencies.

Second session turned out three laws aimed at strengthening local control of schools, particularly in regard to segregation. Last one to pass authorized county judges to require registration of organizations they feel are interfering with school operations.

In reference to the sessions Governor Daniel said he felt "very good" about them. In the first session they completed enactment of the 52-point program he submitted originally, said Daniel. "Old political pros still are fussing," he commented, but "we've never had so much mail from the grass roots voicing approval."

Critics contend, however, that the new laws are an empty victory.

Their view: (1) Measures on water planning, lobbyists, etc., were so riddled with amendments they'll have little effect. (2) Second session school bills won't stand up in court and will, therefore, prove a disappointment to the people who wanted pro-segregation laws. (3) Whole thing cost the Governor support in the Legislature and took nearly $2,000,000 from an already overstrained state treasury.

Out To Cheat Statistics

"Give the gift of life for Christmas".

That is the slogan for holiday driving agreed upon by the Texas Safety Council and Governor Daniel. Objective is to prove wrong the usually -right statisticians who say that 115 Texans will die in traffic accidents this holiday season.

To make drivers safety conscious, an all-out program is being launched by the Governor's office, Department of Public Safety, Highway Department, schools and military installations, and the Texas Safety Association.

Last December's traffic accidents took 252 lives, 108 of them during the holidays.

THE WINDOW

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity.

People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparations. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow.

Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe. Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas after all, is the birth day of our Lord, and should be celebrated first of all where most birthdays are celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

School Board Names Jim Speer Grid Coach, Athletic Director

Jim Speer, Yoeman line coach and basketball mentor, has been named by the Cameron school board to succeed Leo Jackson as head football coach and Yoe High School Athletic director.

Backfield Coach Murphy Webster was named assistant athletic director and track coach. He coached track last spring.

School officials are seeking a third coach to take over basketball and B-team football at Yoe High School.

Speer said he believed a selection possibly would be made by the end of the week.

Jackson Resigns

Coach Jackson submitted his resignation last week to accept a position as athletic director of Irving High School.

Speer, 27, came to Cameron in the fall of 1955. He is a graduate of Baylor University where he played defensive halfback for three years on the Bear varsity.

He was an all-state halfback at Smackover, Arkansas, High School before attending Baylor. Upon graduation he went into the army where he was line coach and player on the Fort Bragg, N. C., army team.

Webster is a graduate of the Dallas school system. He attended Delmar, Junior College before transferring to Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, where he made the Little All-American team. He graduated from Midwestern in 1952, Speer said.

He joined the coaching staff at Yoe High School shortly after Speer.

Goes To Irving

Jackson will move to Irving at mid-term where his duties will include direction of the Irving schools' athletic and physical education program.

Both coaches are married and reside in Cameron.

Jackson's coaching record in 10 years at Yoe High School is 74-31-3.

The Yoemen will go back into AA competition next fall in a conference with Rockdale, Hearne, Rogers and Rosebud.

L. C. Johnson was the final inductee for 1957, making a total of 30 inductions from Milam County for this year.

Witnesses said that Charles Halpain, 15, went into the burning kitchen shortly after the fire started and carried his infant sister to safety.

Fire department officials said only Charles and the little girl were at the house.

Cause of the blaze was attributed to faulty wiring in the ceiling of the kitchen.

The interior of the house and family possessions were almost totally destroyed by flames and water.

Mrs. Halpain was taking three children to school when the fire started about 7:45 a.m. Friday. Two other Halpain children were riding with their mother.

Firemen fought the blaze for about 30 minutes before they extinguished the house-high flames.

Handy Hints on Decorating Your Home for a Brighter and Safer Christmas

To help you make this Christmas season the brightest, safest ever, here are some worthwhile hints on decorating, inside and outside, all around the house.

Caring for Your Christmas Tree

As soon as you bring the tree home, stand it in a pail or tub filled with water until you are ready to set it up and trim it. This will prolong the life and appearance of the tree, keep the needles from falling, and minimize the danger of fire.

Trimming Your Tree

Keep your tree stand waterwell full and your tree will remain fresh and fragrant throughout the holidays.

Bear in mind that tree trimming follows a fundamental rule of women's fashions—accentuate the opposite. If your tree is tall and slender, decorating lines should tend toward the horizontal. (See Fig. 1.) If it is short and full, trim your tree along lines which tend to be vertical. (See Fig. 2.) Applying this simple rule will help you bring out the best in the tree.

Fig. 1

Fig. 2.

How Many Lights?

Too often, the number of lights used to trim a tree is arrived at by guesswork, and results look disappointingly "spotty." There is a formula, however, which does away with much of the guesswork and helps produce an evenly lighted appearance. To achieve what professionals call a "good lighted effect," try this formula:

Height of Tree (in feet) x Width of Tree at Base (in feet) x 3.

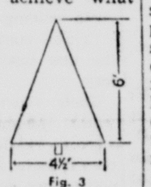

Fig. 3

Let's say your tree is 6 feet in height and 4½ feet wide at the base. (See Fig. 3.) The formula would work like this:
6 x 4½ x 3 = 81 lights for "good lighted effect."

While personal taste is the last word in decorating Christmas trees, each year finds more families adopting the above formula which will help in bringing out the natural beauty of their tree and give a good-lighted effect":

| Size of Tree | No. of lamps required to give a "Good Lighted Effect" |
|---|---|
| 4' | 36 |
| 5' | 56 |
| 6' | 81 |
| 7' | 110 |
| 8' | 144 |
| 10' | 225 |

Where to Start

Trees should always be trimmed from the top down. In working from the bottom up, a trimmer is literally "in his own way," and runs the risk of knocking the tree down. So start at the top, with your angel or star ornament, and work down.

After your tree-top ornament is firmly in place, string the tree lights, using the formula outlined above for a good lighted effect. Reflectors and halos are available at modest cost, and these greatly increase the brilliance of tree lights. Next, add your "continuous" decoration, such as strung popcorn. Follow this with glass ball ornaments, snow balls, candy canes and similar decorations. Last, add aluminum or lead tinsel, one piece at a time, and finish perhaps with a spray of artificial snow.

Most Important of All—Safety

From coast to coast, some 40,000,000 families will light up their Christmas trees this year. If all of us practice safety, we may make this the year when no Christmas tree fire sweeps through an American home, turning a family's joy into grief. There is a highly effective way to protect against short circuits and overloading. Simply make sure you plug a safety "fused" plug set (such as those offered by NOMA LITES) into your original source of current and then add your other decorative sets to this set. This will ensure protection against overloads and short circuits, and prevent darkened rooms due to blown-out fuses. In addition, inspect all light sets carefully for fraying or exposed wires. Let's make this Christmas the safest on record.

Light Up Those Indoor Focal Points

Windows, end tables, mantles, foyer tables and stair rails are all decorating focal points at Christmas. Window wreaths and candoliers come in a wide variety to suit the individual taste, while end tables lend themselves to small artificial Christmas trees with lights that bubble or twinkle merrily. Mantles provide an ideal setting for angel figures, candles, and lights with reflectors set into a background of evergreen branches. (See Fig. 4.) Foyer tables are just right for a "specialty" display, such as illuminated paper poinsettias in a centerpiece basket. Your stair rail, aglow with lights tucked between pine and laurel branches will add still more cheer to your holiday.

Outdoor Decoration Says Merry Christmas To All

The exterior of your home and your grounds offer tremendous decorating opportunities. But practice safety outside as well as inside. Make sure all outside wire is #12 or #14, rubber insulated and heavy duty.

The best source of current for outdoor lighting is a permanent, protected outdoor-type receptacle, or a garage or porch lamp. Even without such an outlet, you can safely reach an indoor receptacle. Merely drill a hole in a board which will fit a convenient window snugly. Close the window on the board and run the outdoor wire in through the hole in the board. The window can be "brace-locked" with a stick. (See Fig. 5.)

Your Doorway and Eaves

Lights in outline form around a doorway, outdoor candles and lighted sprays are highly successful main entrance decorations, proved over years of use. Many standing "specialty" units, such as Santas, Snowmen Carolers and the like have more recently come into greater use near front doorways.

Fig. 6

The eaves of your roof represent an ideal display point for Christmas lighting. The most common difficulty in eave lighting is a tendency for lights to sag. Eliminate this problem by running the outdoor Christmas sets through drive rings hammered into the eaves at regular intervals up to the house corners and roof peaks. The drive rings will carry your Christmas string of lights in straight and beautiful lines, outlining your home perfectly. (Drive rings are available at hardware stores everywhere.) (See Fig. 6.)

Lighting Evergreens Outdoors

Evergreen trees on your front lawn can be especially appealing when lighted. Generally, lights of a single color are preferred on outdoor evergreens. For an enriched effect, however, try this. Make your topmost light white, and mix perhaps two blue lights with an overall pattern of green lights.

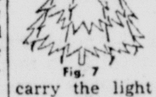

Fig. 7

In order to protect a valuable Blue spruce or Douglas fir, build a simple "teepee" to carry the light strings. Pound stakes into the ground around the tree, inside the spread of the branches, at regular intervals. Then lead rigid wire up from the stakes to a point several inches below the tree-top. Fit a padded wire collar around the tree stem at this point and fasten wires to the collar. (See Fig. 7.)

More Tips For You

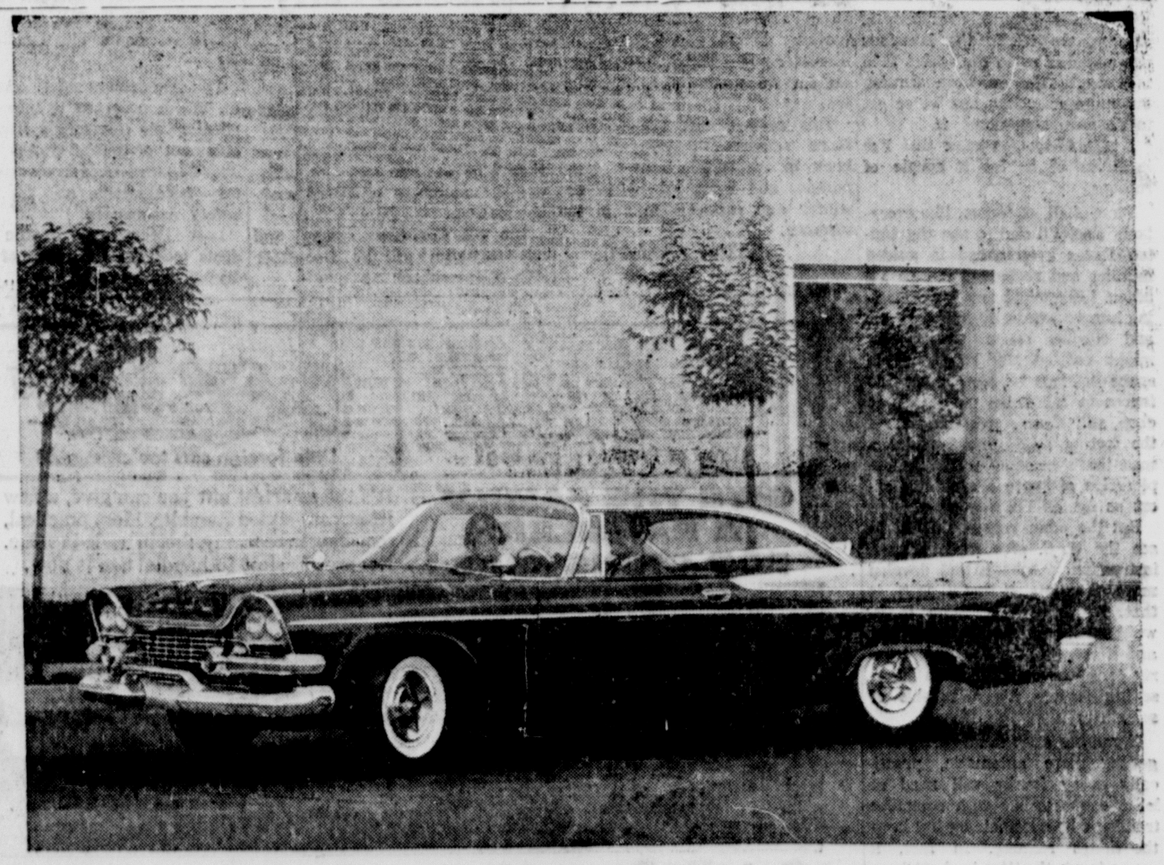
You may have found just the decorating idea you have been looking for. Whether you have or not, more hints and help are available to you, free of charge, in a booklet called, "The Art of Decorating." This booklet contains not only decorating ideas for the Christmas season, but for many other holidays and occasions throughout the year as well. Your FREE copy will be mailed to you promptly upon your request. Simply address: Noma Lites, Inc., 55 W. 13th St., New York 11, N. Y., and ask for "The Art of Decorating." We believe it will help you enjoy the brightest, gayest, safest Christmas you have ever known.



"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.
